

Giacomo Matteotti

Voice of the Century

Hot on the heels of the Who do you think You Are? BBC episode set in London's Little Italy with EastEnders Joe Swash reminiscing on his ancestor's poignant message to Sylvia Pankhurst at the dawn of fascism

Matteotti's exhibition returns to Charing Cross Library, the former London HQ of the Italian Fascist Party

3d July - 30 October

The kidnapping of the Italian leader of the opposition Giacomo Matteotti in 1924 is a haunting reminder of the need to remain vigilant. Curated by Alfio Bernabei (Dangerous Characters, Channel 4, and appearing in the BBC episode) the exhibition covers Pankhurst's Women's International Matteotti Committee and the secret visit to London by Matteotti that cost him his life.

Free entry

Charing Cross Library

4 Charing Cross Road
London WC2H 0HF

charingcrosslibrary@westminster.gov.uk
0207 641 4625

City of Westminster
LIBRARIES